

January 1, 2022 Glazier and Allied Worker Wage Rate Changes

All,

As you know, our glazing and allied worker bargaining contracts currently include a California Sick Leave waiver. In order for this waiver to remain in effect, all employees covered by the contract must meet the 130% California minimum wage standard. As of January 1, 2022, the California minimum wage will be $15.00, which means that all employees must be at $19.50+ for the waiver to apply.

We know how important this waiver is to our members, so we've worked with our Union partners to make the necessary changes.

As of January 1, 2022:

- The first period glazing apprentice will be bumped up to 42% to meet the 130% minimum wage standard. The other apprentice levels will not be affected.
- Allied worker wages will be increased to $19.50 and will remain at $19.50 until the expiration of the current contract.
